Bryan loved people and his larger than life personality, warmth, and energy drew people to him. Working at FedEx gave Bryan the perfect opportunity to laugh and talk with people, he always made his presence known. He was known to wear his Fed Ex shorts year round! Unfortunately, a back injury ended his career in 2012.

Even though back pain became an everyday occurrence for him, Bryan was an eternal optimist, rarely complained, and continued to pursue the things he loved which were many and included hiking, fishing, camping, rafting, rock climbing, skiing and boarding, (yes both!), bible studies and playing his guitar. He was an accomplished guitar player and songwriter, having written and copyrighted many contemporary Christian songs. He loved his family, his cat "Kuna", and coffee shops, in fact, Bryan and Pennie were married at Yeti's Grind in Eagle in 2009.

Lastly and most importantly, Bryan was a true Christian and his faith was deep and real. We find peace knowing that he is safe and pain-free in the hands of God and likely causing a ruckus in heaven with his booming voice and high energy! Godspeed Bryan, until we meet again, we love you!
